

Student | Activity

Students went to ESARQ for lab work on fabrication process of the pavilion; after voting on one concept students further explored that concept by producing prototypes digitally and physically. Students experimented with different shapes for various skin patterns and structural performance.